Recommendation:

Keegan Kamphuis (Non-Fiction writer)

"Lauren is a very talented and creative thinker. Her ideas always draw me in and inspire me. She always supports me in my writing and offers tips on how to make it look and sound better. She is my go-to editor, when I'm not sure how to structure, what to write, or what to write next. When talking to others interested in writing books, she is always my first suggestion and I can't wait to continue working with her."

- Beta Reading - How will your readers interpret your story? Does it flow well and make sense? I will give you my unbiased opinion, before you put it on the shelves!
- Copy/Structural Editing - Correct grammar and consistency is important. Picking the right words and building the right structure makes your story even better to read!
- Developmental Editing - Beyond proofreading/structure of your sentences, let's build a smooth story. One that readers will adore!

THE UNKNOWN TALES

This is my self-published book, which I edited myself.
